Associate Attorney

Advocates Legal Group, a Busy Central Massachusetts law firm seeks a dedicated, diligent associate to assist with landlord tenant and civil litigation matters. The candidate must be proficient at drafting pleadings, discovery and motions, drafting c. 93A demand letters and appearing in court for motions practice. Associate must also have basic understanding of and experience with criminal law and criminal procedure, as well as meaningful criminal court experience. Criminal practice will be less of an emphasis; however, Associate will be expected to appear in Court on Criminal matters and draft motions for the firm from time to time.

Associate will be responsible for new client intakes, gathering pertinent client documents and all communication with clients, and opposing counsel. Attention to detail, adherence to tracking orders, rules of Civil Procedure and an ability to understand strengths and weaknesses of each case through research and review of current law on case-related issues is imperative and required.

Commitment to quality representation of clients, including thorough familiarity with client's claims or defenses, flawless written and oral communication, and genuine and detailed understanding of controlling legal principles is crucial. Our firm is based on the Client centered model, where we put the Client first and we expect Associate will too. Other firm needs include general practice matters such as residential real estate closings, personal injury, and a hope to expand into probate (divorce) matters. Candidate must be interested, willing and able to be fully engaged in being an Associate and growing within this firm. This is an in-office, full-time position. Firm is willing to compensate the right candidate, commensurate upon experience. For the right candidate this position could include health benefits, 401K and match, incentive-based bonuses and more! Come join our growing firm with an opportunity to grow, we are available for interviews. For more information about Advocates Legal Group please browse our website.

To set up an interview please contact the managing partner, attorney Jonathan D. Molleur at 508-579-8333 or email him directly at jonathan@advocateslegalgroup.com.
